

Excellence in Healthcare Leadership

Build your leadership capacity.

Healthcare leaders who can balance evidence, constraints, relationships, and interests lead with insight.

The Excellence in Healthcare Leadership (EHL) program is an online training program designed to strengthen health administrators' and policymakers' visioning and leadership skills.

- learn from healthcare leaders across Canada through engaging online learning modules and live, interactive online workshops
- share insights and best practices with an expanded network of healthcare and public service leaders across Canada
- train in a program that is LEADS-certified and contributes to the Certified Health Executive (CHE) designation

- Registration: rolling intake (see our website for the full schedule)
- Delivery format: blended (online learning modules + weekly online workshops)
- Program length: 4-5 months (12 modules + 2 deeper dives + final capstone report)
- Cost: $2,150, including certification

Hone your leadership and visioning skills to help provide the best care possible while shaping a sustainable, thriving healthcare system.
